

ROUGHSTOCK

Joey+Rory (Featuring the Zac Brown Band) - "This Song's For You"

*By: Marc Erickson
July 14, 2010*

After gaining many positive responses for "This Song's For You" while out on tour with the Zac Brown Band, Joey+Rory have decided to release the tune as their lead-off single from Album Number Two. Written by Rory with Zac Brown, "This Song's For You" is a heartfelt tune that finds Joey+Rory proclaiming how much they love their fans with "This Song's For You." Every lyric in "This Song's For You" is meant to touch the hearts of each person in the arena, stadium or bar watching/listening to the band perform.

For the first time in one of their singles, "This Song's For You" is a true duet with Joey singing the verses while Rory sings the choruses. It shows fans, who haven't seen the duo live, that Rory is a talented singer in his own right – to go along with his songwriting. The bridge and final chorus of "This Song's For You" features Zac Brown. Together with Joey+Rory this is a combination that makes "This Song's For You" feel like not only an instant classic but a downright 'breakthrough' for the husband and wife duo.

Joey+Rory are real, honest, true-to-life country folks. They live the life they sing about. What you see is what you get with them and you know what, they're telling everyone that "This Song's For You." If radio doesn't play "This Song's

For You,” then there’s something truly wrong with the ‘gatekeepers’ as “This Song’s For You” should be a hit even without Zac Brown’s cameo at the end.